Flu Bug Still Taking Toll in High Schools

Student absenteeism in area high schools still high compared to normal figures.

While flu is prevalent at this season of the year, the spread of Asian flu thruout the country has made people more aware of the flu bug this year.

At Bremen High school as of Tuesday, Supt. T. R. Brikhead reported absenteeism among the students was about 12 per cent and the faculty were present in full force.

At Lincoln-Way High school, Supt. A. Hunter Chapman, reported 189 students absent or 35 per cent of the student body. This was a sharp gain as compared to the previous week when approximately 10 per cent of the students were absent.

At Carl Sandburg, Supt. W. O. Fisher reported a decrease in number of students absent over last week, when between 330 and 350 pupils, or 35 per cent of the student body were home because of illness. As of Monday, the total had dropped to 200 or 22 per cent of the students; on Tuesday, only 17 per cent were absent. About five teachers a day have been absent because of illness.

Normal absenteeism in high schools is around 4 per cent.

Mr. Haas was preceded in death by a nephew, Walter Haas.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. in the Sonntag funeral home, Joliet with the Rev. Leonard Reinke officiating. Burial was in Hadley cemetery in Homer township.

The delay, which was granted at the defendant's request, is the fourth granted this year.

Asst. State's Attorney, Lawrence Pusateri, says the case will come up before Judge Butler on Oct. 29, but whether trial will begin that time is

Building Dam On Lincoln-Way Campus --Serves Dual Purpose

Students of Lincoln-Way High school will be able to ice skate on a lake situated on the school campus this winter.

The soil conservation authorities advocated the construction of a dam to the north of the large ravine which is located directly north of the school building. The ravine, which drains most of the school campus, is situated in the wooded area. Work on the project is almost completed.

The dam was proposed to prevent further erosion. The small lake so provided will be approximately one acre in size and will be about 16 feet deep next to the dam. It is planned to stock the lake with fish and other biological specimen to be used by the students in the biology department.

Besides its use as a laboratory the lake will add to picnic facilities a portion of the campus provides.

Lions In Midst Of Campaign To Aid Blind

The Mokena Lions club is joining with over 500 other Lion clubs of Illinois for the statewide "Aid To The Blind" campaign.

October is Lions' "Aid To The Blind" month and the week of Oct. 14 thru 19 has been designated as "Be Thankful You Can See" Week. Canisters can be seen in the various stores as a reminder that any contribution is most appreciated. The funds raised by the Mokena Lions will be forwarded to various blind organizations such as the Hadley School For The Blind, where Braille courses are taught by mail, tuition free. The funds are also used to support the Leader Dog School For The Blind where guide dogs are trained to lead. The Lions ask you to remember "Aid To The Blind Week" and to contribute to the cause.

At the October meeting of the Mokena Lions, seven new members were inducted. The seven were: Charles Burkhardt Sr., John Hansen, Eric Jacobson, Charles Hostert, Fred Steinhagen, Gerrit Swart, and Paul Wagner. A talk was given by Charles Snively, of Peoria on "Agriculture is Big Business".

The Mokena Lions annual fall windshield wash will be held on Saturday, Oct. 26 with George Siegle and John Smith as co-chairmen.

October 23 is the first meeting of the four clubs in the Lincoln-Way district to be held in the New Lenox Methodist church. Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. Each club is plann-

The Mokena village board is still approximately 60 short of the number of applications for sewer services required by the financial firms who bid on the water and sewer revenue bonds needed to pay the cost of municipality's proposed sewer system.

Some 240-odd applications have been received, accompanied by a $10 deposit which will be returned or credited to a customer's account when the bonds are finally sold. The bond houses require 300 applications.

Advocates of a sewer system for Mokena are hopeful that the requirement will be met within the next two weeks. They fear too long a delay may jeopardize the project.

No one is certain how long the $69,000 federal grant allotted to Mokena will remain in force. The grant is to be applied on the cost of the sewage disposal plant.

There is a move on foot now to eliminate use of federal funds in combatting stream pollution and if congress agrees and Mokena should lose its present grant, it was pointed out, the $69,000 would be an added expense to the residents.

Advocates of the sewer program also fear that unless the work can be started this fall, the figures submitted by the contractors will be voided. The bids are under the engineer's estimate but if new bids have to be taken, say in the spring, it is probable that they will be higher.

Firms are willing to take jobs at a lower figure in the fall, it was pointed out, so they can keep their crews intact thru the winter, and have them available when work increases in the spring.

The proposed sewer system would serve the entire village of Mokena and is so designed that it can be extended in any direction if necessary.

Special Scouting Events Reveal Benefits Of Training, Activities

The 10,000 Cubs, Boy Scouts, and Explorers of Boy Scouts of America Pokagon Trails council will tell the public this Scout year thru various special events the benefits of their training and activities. This will be the third year of the Scout "Onward for God and My Country" program.

Safety will be the 1958 good turn. Scouts will demonstrate the effectiveness of their motto "Be Prepared", by applying the safety good turn to traffic safety in the spring, outdoor safety in the summer, and home safety in the fall.

A "Scoutorama" will be a highlight of the year Saturday, April 19, in Hammond Civic center, with Scouts participating from Ashkum, Peace Pipe, and Potawatomi districts in 38 communities of Illinois and Indiana.

Scout Sunday, February 9, and Scout week Cubs, Boy Scouts, Explorers and their adult leaders will participate in church services and civic programs, present demonstrations, and show exhibits.

The story of Scouting is currently being told in the Pokagon Trails council annual finance campaign, which in most communities is again part of Community Funds and United Chests. The campaign is raising operating funds for the day by day expenses of the council.

The council's membership has grown from 7,000 to 10,000 boys in three years. It includes 6,000 Cubs, 3,000 Boy Scouts, and 1,000 Explorers. There are approximately 3,000 adult leaders, including 600 den mothers for Cubs and 2,400 men Scouters for Cubs, Boy Scouts and Explorers.

Adult leaders also serve on the council executive board, as district and neighborhood commissioners, and on council and district operating committees for advancement, camping and activities, finance, health and safety, leadership training and organization and extension.

Pokagon Trails council has a summer camp at Camp Betz near Berrien Springs, Mich., and weekend sites at Camps Eggers, Hawes, Nissaki, and Roe. Council headquarters are 5217 Hohman avenue in Hammond.

Lincoln-Way to Aid Federal Study on Campus Development

Supt. A. Hunter Chapman recently received an inquiry from J. L. Taylor of the federal department of health, education and welfare asking for a site development plan and how the Lincoln-Way campus is utilized for educational purposes. The study is being conducted in order to help other schools in planning and developing their sites.

At the present time almost all of the 70 acre campus is being used either for educational or recreational purposes. The Lincoln Way Future Farmers have from the beginning farmed about 30 acres, giving the boys actual experience in the latest farming methods.

Churches Observe Layman's Sunday

Denominations in the National Council of Churches, will observe Sunday Oct. 20, as Laymen's Day.

Takes Sunday School to Homes

The ministry of the Community Bible church of Tinley Park is being expanded to include a home department, according to an announcement made last week by its pastor, the Rev. Paul Eldridge. It takes the Sunday school into the homes of those who would otherwise miss the blessing of a teaching ministry.

Someone has estimated that 60 different classes of people are served by a home department. One thinks at once of those who are too old or too infirm to attend Sunday school regularly and those confined by illness. Then there are mothers of young children, those who stay at home to minister to the sick, and men and women who find it impossible to attend Sunday school regularly because they must work on Sunday. Another large group includes inmates of various institutions such as prisons, hospitals, old folks' and convalescent homes, and the like.

The church will supply materials and tape recordings of the Sunday morning sermons and will make regular visits with the tape recorder to the homes to keep the enrolled members informed of the activities of the church and offer spiritual help and counsel where necessary.

Community Bible church is currently meeting at 17251 Oak Park ave., and further information on this new project may be received by calling its pastor.

Mr. Bernhard, demonstrated a small square with four disks, placed under a high power light, which rang a nearby telephone bell. Some Facts And Fancy - Let's Say That It's 100% Fancy - About Snow

By JOHN W. ALLEN
(Southern Illinois University)

People have accumulated many signs, sayings, and superstitions concerning the weather. Some of these naturally are related to snow. The first snowfall of the season is not too far away and the fact reminds us of some bits of this weather lore.

The writer is reminded that he did not count the foggy mornings in August and thus does not know how many snows should come during the current winter. Now he will have to wait the winter out along with others who were alike negligent or didn't trust this particular lore. By other signs, however, there should be plenty of snow, for the first week of August was hot and leaves clung to the trees later than usual.

Altho the time to apply the foggy morning formula has passed, weather lore provides other, and perhaps just as reliable, guidance, to indicate the number of snowfalls that should occur before spring is definitely here.

According to one of these, the day of the month when the first snowfall occurs will be the number to expect. According to a second belief, the number of days that have elapsed since the moon was new is the correct one. A third belief would count the days from the first snow until Christmas and settle for that number of snows.

Few Rail Fences

Since children and Santa Claus seem to like snow it might be well to seek some guidance to tell us just when snow may be expected. A number of beliefs are available to help in this short-term forecasting. For instance, if the full moon has two rings about it at night or even appears to be "wading thru snow", there will be a snowfall within 24 hours. A dog, serenading this same full moon with howls likewise presages a storm. A flock of blackbirds feeding together on the ground or snowbirds scurrying along the rail fence tell of coming snow. Since rail fences are gone, perhaps the snowbirds should be allowed to scurry along any other fence.

If smoke, in winter season, lingers near the ground, or the soot burns in the chimney, or the wood fire in the fireplace spits or makes a crackling sound like that of falling snow pellets, a storm is brewing. Far off echoing sounds that "carry well" are signals to those with practiced ears. There are even those who think that they can detect a tone in the howling of the wind that foretells a coming snowstorm. An east wind or the frost clinging to trees late in the morning add to the hopes or fears of others.

Once "grandma has begun to pick her geese" or to "shake her feather bed" and the sun breaks thru the falling snow, more can be expected at the same hour on the morrow. A snow that begins with large fluffy flakes is judged to be of short duration, while one beginning with small, hard, wind-driven flakes will be a heavier one. Also if this wind-driven snow sticks to the side of the trees, expect more. Likewise, if snow, in melting away, leaves patches, or "snow breeders", more will come soon.

Heavy Snow, Good Crops

Snow itself also is supposed to be a means of prophecy. A white Christmas foretells a green Easter and a good fruit year as well as few deaths and a "light grave yard". Heavy snows mean that the approaching crop year will be a good one. If snow falls on the carriage or coach of those going to church to be married, they will surely separate. Obviously, snow falling upon participants walking to church would have the same effect. On the other hand, snow on the wedding day, if it did not fall on those on their way to be married, meant that the husband would be kind to his wife. Rabbits were certainly not good until after snow had come.

The first snow of the season brought certain benefits and dangers. Anyone who walked barefoot around the house thru this snow would not be sick for the year. If this ritual were observed each morning there was snow on the ground, the practitioner's feet would become practically frost proof. A sore throat could be cured by bandaging it with a snowball. Children, however, were not to eat of the first snow for it contained "all the poisons and diseases of the summer."

Snow Water Potent Stuff

Even dreams of snow had more than usual significance. At all times they were supposed to indicate events of more than usual importance. Those coming during the time when snow was out of season presaged approaching good fortune. Snow dreams occurring during the snowy season foretold misfortune.

Folklore also would have water from melted snow looked upon as a rather potent remedy, particularly if it came from snow falling after March first. If this water were used to wash the hair, it would prevent baldness. It would also improve the complexion, even to removing freckles and preventing chapped hands. Stick a pin thru a wart until it bleeds, then wash the bleeding wart with "after March snow water", and the wart will disappear.

This March snow water was particularly good for the eyes. The only water considered more effective was such as might come from a last snow occurring in April. Headaches could be cured by washing the face in March snow water. Some even held such snow water was holy and could be used to bless. Many believed that all snow water was "finer" and thus more readily penetrated boots and shoes.

Even if this lore concerning snow is of mild interest, a careful look thru a magnifying glass at some snow flakes might intrigue almost anyone.

Pre-fabrication has demonstrated its advantages in the shower cabinet industry. Available are units which can be quickly assembled in cramped quarters and will provide a leak-proof installation, it is claimed.

A Word Of Caution To Motorists Is Worth A Lifetime of Regret

A tragic letter sent to the Los Angeles Mirror-News, bears repeating in papers throughout the country. The letter addressed to "Dear Mr. Motorist" reads:

"I am not writing this to you to remind you all over again, but to all motorists because school again begins."

"I want to prevent the tragedy that we have shared together—a mother and you, Mr. Motorist."

"That day three sun-tanned little faces smiled as they waved me a happy good-by and so importantly went on their way to school. I wanted to call them back to tell them how lonesome it would be."

"Mr. Motorist, I wanted to kiss them once more... then I saw you take that corner-tires screaming, car out of control."

"What was your hurry? Were you late for work? Were you angry at someone?"

"Surely not at my three. I am sure you would not want to run your screaming tires over their happy faces intentionally, erasing forever the smiles they had for me."

"But, Mr. Motorist, children are very forgiving in life and I'm sure in death. They would if they could, pat your hand and feel sad that because of one tragic moment you are left to live over and over again how your love of speed took three lives."

"I don't hate you any more. I feel sorry for you. I can still see those smiling little faces as they wave me goodbye."

The letter was signed. Under the signature was this postscript:

"Another year. And once again your flowers arrived. They are beautiful. Thank you."

A reporter from the newspaper who went to investigate, talked to a close friend of the letter writer, who told him the letter was written four years ago, on the first anniversary of the tragedy. However, it was never mailed to the man who was driving the car. The friend sent the letter to the paper, which printed it.

The motorist, it was discovered, still sends the mother flowers on each anniversary of the children's deaths.

The tragedy which took three small lives did not end with their deaths. The mother, who in her mind still waves good-by to the smiling faces of her children, is in a mental hospital, hopelessly insane.

The lads in the picture, all residents of Orland, are Tom Scheber, on the rope; the boy with his arm raised is Louis Meredith and next to him is Bob Kaiser, assistant scoutmaster. The one climbing so as to be the next one using the bridge is Wayne Klotz. The rope bridge, rigged under the direction of Scoutmaster Robert Town, Orland Park, was popular and more than 250 scouts tried it out. The bridge had a span of 40 feet. The round-up was held Oct. 11-13. Much credit was given Assistant Scoutmaster Harry Richard for the showing made by Troop 251. (Robert Porter photo)

Illinois-Indiana Group To Make Study Of Port Development Plan

(CNS) — State delegations of the Illinois-Indiana Bi-state Port Study and Development commission are mapping plans for their first joint session.

Topics to be included on an agenda and where to meet are to be arranged by State Rep. Albert W. Hachmeister (R., Chicago), recently elected as chairman of the Indiana group and of the Public Harbors and Terminals of Indiana.

Other Illinois officers named were vice chairman, Hjalmar Johnson, vice president of Inland Steel Corporation, and secretary, Rep. Nathan Kinally (D., Chicago).

Also on the Illinois committee are State Sen. Hayes Robertson (R., Flossmoor), Attorney William Kirby from Waukegan, Kenneth E. Crago, State Senators Daniel Dougherty and John Donovan from Chicago, and Rep. Edward J. Derwinski, Chicago.

Johnson is the Expert
At Thursday's meeting in the state building in Chicago, Hachmeister reported the Indiana committee members are "anxious to get started."

The bi-state commission is charged with the study and recommendations for lake port development from Waukegan, around the tip of Lake Michigan and into Indiana.

Committee members indicated they first want to become well-oriented in past port studies for background and expressed the desire to hear soon from the Army Corps of Engineers.

Johnson, considered the port expert on the committee, is to prepare a summary of past port studies for the members.

Organizational matters took up much of Thursday's session.

Where to start was a much-discussed point.

Facilities are Lacking
"We should determine first what is best for Chicago and Illinois; what is best for us," said Dougherty, adding:

"Let Indiana present what it feels is best for it and then coordinate."

There's no question the St. Lawrence seaway will bring the Illinois-Indiana area more commerce, Hachmeister said. But, he added, "There's also no doubt that we do not now have the facilities to handle it."

The committee generally is thinking along the lines of privately financed port developments, although time devoted to this subject probably will come near the end of hearings to be scheduled.

However, Hachmeister said the group should come up with a firm plan as soon as possible so bonds can be sold.

"A bondholder won't buy if he doesn't know exactly what will be done," he said.

Sandburg Ruins Lincoln-Way Homecoming

Varsity Eagles Blank Knights 20-0; Sophs Also Triumph, 19-6

The Lincoln-Way homecoming last week-end was a sad affair as far as the outcome of the football game was concerned. The Eagles of Sandburg not only refused to cooperate but pounced with such fury that the Knights failed to get off the ground. When the last whistle had sounded the Sandburgs were on top of a 20-0 score.

This was the Eagles second victory and the fourth loss for Lincoln-Way.

In the sophomore game Saturday the Sandburg outfit racked up its fourth win of the current campaign against Lincoln-Way, 19 to 6.

In the varsity contest, play was fairly even for the first period, Phil Yurtis scored the first touchdown for the visitors in the second quarter after snagging a seven-yard pass from Jay Morlock. Eric Johanson made the extra point the hard way, by rushing.

The Eagles kicked-off and unable to make its downs, Lincoln-Way punted. It was a good kick but that Johanson fellow grabbed it and with some excellent blocking returned it for a touchdown—a run of 65 yards. Ed Siemsen then bulled his way thru the line for the extra point to make the score, Sandburg 14, Lincoln-Way 0.

That was the way it stayed until the third quarter, when Morlock uncorked a pass that settled into the hands of Yurtis on the Lincoln-Way 20, and the Eagle receiver paced off the remaining yards for the third and final tally.

Lincoln-Way will play Oak Lawn there, tomorrow, Oct. 18 and Sandburg will play Morgan Park Military academy there on Saturday, Oct. 19.

In the sophomore game last Saturday, Jerry McBride, of Sandburg, scored both of his team's touchdowns on short runs and kicked for one extra point. A freshman, Byron Hyink, reeled off several good runs, one of them for 50 yards and a touchdown.

Tad Morlock No. 1 Quarterback at Indiana State

Tad Morlock, a 1954 graduate of Orland Park high, now is the number one quarterback for the Indiana State college football team. He has been called "ubiquitous" and "indestructible" by opposing sportswriters and has received high praise from Bill Jones, new coach of the Sycamore grid teams.

Morlock, a sophomore, was second in total offense and had thrown three scoring passes in his first three games, as he started all three and played nearly the entire game each time out.

The Sycamores defeated Eastern Illinois in their first game and then lost close decisions to DePauw and Evansville. Both of the last two opponents were Indian College conference teams of which Indiana State also is a member. Local fans predict that the Sycamores will either end up with a 4-4 or 5-3 mark in a rebuilding season.

Morlock won three football, four basketball and four baseball letters while playing for the local high school teams. He also played quarterback on the Orland Park eleven. His college majors are radio and television for television law.

Mustangs Toss Block in Title Path of Bremen by 13-0 Victory

Bremen's title hopes in the Southwest Suburban football conference received a rude setback last Friday afternoon when the Braves took a 13 to 0 shellacking from Evergreen Park.

It was the first defeat suffered by the Braves varsity this season and leaves them trailing Evergreen and Rich, each of whom has won three games, with no defeats. Bremen has won three and lost one.

Bremen entered the fray against the Mustangs under a handicap. Flu and injuries had taken a toll of some of the Braves best talent. Altho the hosts, the Mustangs were far from hospitable, as far as permitting the Braves to ramble around at will.

The Mustangs, sparked by the able passing of Jimmy Baker and the running of Ed Weber and Jerry Pelligrino reeled off 279 yards and 15 first downs. Baker connected on five out of 12 of his passes.

Bremen was held to 88 yards.

The Evergreens scored in the first quarter on eight plays, the last being a 29-yard flip from Baker to Rich Schaefer. Ron Meursch's attempt to kick the extra point failed. The Mustangs counted again in the second period, and again in eight plays, Baker plunging over from the two. This time Meursch's kick for the point was good.

The last half was devoted to fruitless efforts on the part of both teams to hit pay dirt.

Nuclear energy rapidly is becoming America's biggest industry. From a $6,000 government appropriation in 1940, it has become a $12 billion giant.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

Passing other vehicles is an every day driving experience for every driver. There are, of course, innumerable occasions when it is perfectly proper and legal to pass other cars. On the other hand, there are some motorists who refuse to abide by the basic rules of the road and insist upon passing other vehicles when such a maneuver endangers their lives as well as the lives of others.

The driver who insists upon passing on a hill invites disaster. Passing a car on a hill, when a driver has no idea whatsoever of what is approaching from the other side, is a ridiculous way to gamble lives. Also in this category is the driver who insists upon passing on a curve. What is coming around the curve from the other side may not only be the surprise of his life, but may well cost him his life.

Other dangerous places at which to pass a car are at intersections, at railroad crossings and when approaching a bridge.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

Announce State Aid Claims Filed For Public Schools In Area

Verne E. Crackel, Will County Superintendent of Schools, approved and certified to the State Superintendent's Office transportation claims totaling $148,167.75 for schools providing free transportation for students to and from school. The state reimburses the school district up to three fourths of the school's per capita transportation costs, or $20.00 per pupil, whichever is the lesser for those students transported who live 1½ miles or more from the schools; transportation aid can not be claimed for kindergarten students.

Following are the amounts of the claims filed by local schools in the county approved and certified for payment by the County Superintendent:

District 114, Manhattan Grade school, 53.66 pupils transported; $4,296.80 total cost of transportation; $80.07 per capita cost; $1,073.20 amount of claim.

District 122, New Lenox Grade school, 59.44 pupils transported; $3,784.00 total cost of transportation; $63.66 per capita cost; $1,088.80 amount of claim.

Lincoln-Way Community High school, 497.66 pupils transported; $16,592.69 total cost of transportation; $33.34 per capita cost; $9,953.20 amount of claim.

The Will County Superintendent also approved and certified to the State Superintendent's office, State Aid claims totaling $1,398,450.11 for the schools of Will county. These State Aid claims provide for flat grants of $22 per pupil in average daily attendance for students enrolled in grades 1 to 8 and $7 per pupil in average daily attendance for students enrolled in grades 9 to 12. In addition to the flat grants, the state pays equalization aid up to $200 per pupil in average daily attendance (or guarantees that each district shall have $200 per pupil in A.D.A. for educational purposes) when a 50 cent educational tax rate plus the flat grant of $22 or $7 does not produce an average per capita cost of $200 per pupil. Each kindergarten student is counted as one-half student in figuring the average daily attendance for state aid.

Following are the amounts of claims filed by local schools in the County and approved and certified for payment by the County Superintendent:

District 114, Manhattan Grade school, $3,775.20 flat grant and total claim.

District 119, Reiter, $576.62; district 121, Schmuhl, $779.02 flat grant; $1,834.63 special equalization; $2,613.65 total.

District 122, New Lenox Grade school, $10,091.62 flat grant; $53,610.99 special equalization; $63,702.61 total.

District 124, Francis school, $524.26 flat grant; $513.00 special equalization; $1,037.26 total.

District 125, Marlev school, $434.28 flat grant; $1,285.56 special equalization; $1,719.84 total.

District 154, Weitendorf, $746.46; District 161, Summit Hill, $660.00.

Games were enjoyed and refreshments were served by Melody Benson, Sharon Anast and Louise Bettenhausen.

Crash Fatal to Worker at L-W

The superintendent of construction of the addition to Lincoln-Way high school, employed by the Hansen-Peterson Co., of Joliet, died last Thursday night as a result of a two-car collision at Bradley.

The victim, John Weling, Sr., 65, of Kankakee, was enroute to his home on Wednesday evening of last week when he collided with a car operated by Wayne Rantz, 18, of Bradley. The impact hurled Weling from his car for a distance of 25 feet.

His head struck the curbing, inflicting injuries that caused his death last Thursday. Weling's death was the ninth to occur in the Kankakee area as a result of traffic accidents in less than a week.

Weling had been on the Lincoln-Way job from the beginning and was conversant with all the details. His death caused a slow down in the work until new schedules could be adopted.

The auto victim had engaged in construction work all his life. He first became affiliated with Hansen-Petersen 10 years ago but left the company for a time. Three years ago he came back to the firm and had been with it since.

Mr. Weling was a veteran of World War I and was a member of the Holy Name society of St. Rose of Lima church. Besides his widow, Mary, he is survived by a son, two daughters, three sisters and three brothers. Funeral services were held last Saturday from the St. Rose church at Kankakee with burial there in Mt. Calvary cemetery.

July Sales Show Decline, Tax Records Show

City sales tax collections in August brought $3,842,081 into the coffers of 953 Illinois municipalities. This sum was the amount collected by the state for sales in the month of July.

Gross collection was $4,087,321 but the state takes a bite of six per cent as a sort of handling charge and the process in August netted the state $245,239.

June business was better as the gross collection in 934 cities in July was $4,303,208. No explanation is advanced out of Springfield as to the slump in July. Some attribute it to the fact that the buying public has come to accept the general belief that they do not buy so much in July and August and therefore a slump in business is expected in those months. Some point out that most of the automobile sales have been consummated before July and the fact is reflected in the tax collections. Others point out food sales are less in summer than in other months. Whatever the reason may be, it was pointed out, the fact remains that July sales were off as compared to June.

Sales were not down every place, however, Mokena had a better month in July as indicated by the amount of net sales tax received in August, $848. Frankfort's share was $893 New Lenox, $1,236; Orland Park $571; Tinley Park, $2,117 and Manhattan $504.

Amounts paid to other nearby communities: Markham, $889; Matteson, $612; Hazel Crest, $672; Oak Forest, $721; Oak Lawn, $8,860; Dolton, $4,428 Blue Island, $12,702; Lockport, $2,869; Chicago Heights, $21,075 Posen $881; and Joliet $45,074.

Chicago's share of the half-cent sales tax collected in that city for the month of July was $1,708,750.

A motorist is injured every 23 seconds, the National Safety Council estimates. One person is the victim of a motor vehicle accident every 13 minutes. EVERY 23 SECONDS

ADMIRING GLANCES are focused on Janice and Lorine Lee Miller, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Miller, Hillgate road, Brighton subdivision, Mokena, as they ride on a float in the Mt. Greenwood Golden Jubilee parade last Saturday. Janice pictured at the rear of the float, reigned as queen and Lorine, riding on the front of the float, as princess during the jubilee. The float was also a winner, taking first prize in that division. The prize was a large trophy. Mt. Greenwood is the area near 111th and Kedzie ave., now a part of Chicago. The Miller girls, who now reside in Mokena, are descendants of pioneers of the Mt. Greenwood area.

Gives Approval to 20-Cent Premium On Bulk Milk

At the annual session of the Pure Milk association held Oct. 14 in the Eighth Street theater in Chicago, approval was made on bulk milk at PMA plants, to continue the 20-cent premium. They also set a seven cent limit on checkoff and endorsed a proposal to move members' milk from plants of dealers who refuse to go along with the recently negotiated milk price increase.

A. L. McWilliams, general manager of PMA told delegates it has been necessary to go directly to Presidential assistants and to legislators, "over the head of the secretary of agriculture" in order to get help in PMA's running battle with the United States department of agriculture on price problems. He pointed out the inconsistency of the Department in granting hikes to eastern markets, but refusing price increases in mid-west markets.

The Bremen Beat

By EDWIN BRUELL

The Future Homemakers of America of Bremen Community high school are in the process of setting up a comprehensive program for the year, according to Mrs. Dorothy Bentz, faculty sponsor.

Opening the season with a Section 20 rally at Peotone Tuesday, Oct. 15, with all members eligible to attend, the group sponsored a taffy apple sale yesterday.

An innovation at Bremen will be the slumber party for all FHA members approximately 80, Friday, Oct. 25, in the homemaking department. The party will follow a gym-jam at the school. It will consist of a midnight snack, skits and other entertainment, the slumber session, and breakfast at school, followed by the homeward exodus.

Monthly meetings will center around such state and national projects as "Civil Defense", "International Good Will", "Better Family Life", "Community Participation," and "The Teen-age Consumer." These activities will be carried out in conjunction with the local membership in the Illinois Association of Future Homemakers of America and its affiliation with the national organization represented thruout the United States, Puerto Rico, and Hawaii.

Other activities planned are a Daddy Date Night, Friday, Nov. 8, a talk by a Patricia Stevens model, Christmas caroling at the Oak Forest infirmary, and an around-the-world dinner in February with each girl bringing a different foreign dish. A Japanese speaker will give the main talk. Other plans include a family council, showing of slides a possible field trip, and a special feature: A Courtesy Day—otherwise known as a "No Gripe" day.

Carole Schara, president and a member of the state conference, will give a report at the meeting today (Oct. 17.) on "Getting to Know FHA Better."

Other officers are Roberta Kochalka, vice-president; Sharon L. Smith, secretary; Pat Leeper, treasurer; Judy Metzger, historian; Doris Randle El, parliamentarian; Kay Simmons, projects chairman; Jill Kelly, public relations chairman; Sandy Saunders, recreation chairman; and Shirley Thomas, degrees chairman.

Assistant faculty sponsors are Elaine Downing and Mrs. Alice Brislawn.

SCIENCE SCHOLARSHIP

The top science student in the senior class at Bremen high, to be chosen early in 1958, will become eligible to apply for one of a group of major science scholarships sponsored by the Baosch and Lomb Optical Co., at the University of Rochester.

The Bremen candidate for the scholarship competition will be the winner of the honorary science award, who will receive the medal at graduation. Only winners of this award are eligible to compete for the science scholarships.

The scholarships provide for a flexible stipend based on need, with a total four-year value of $9,600.

The Rochester scholarship committee studies all applications and selects 30 of the most promising candidates as finalists. These students are notified late in March, and the finalists from all parts of the country are invited to Rochester for three days, with expenses paid, for interviews and competitive tests to determine the scholarship winners.

In order to enter the nationwide scholarship competition, the local award winner is selected and notified early in January. He then fills out application blanks and returns them to the University of Rochester by Mar. 1.

John Laverty, chairman of the Bremen science department, stated that all students who stand near the top of their class in science studies should check with him early in 1958 to determine their eligibility for the science scholarship competition.

SCHOLARSHIP TESTS

Thirty-eight Bremen students will participate in the third annual National Merit Scholarship program under the auspices of Robert Moser, director of guid-

Today's modern electric dryers will dry a full 8-lb. load of wash for just six cents.

And clothes stay clean and smell clean when they're dried in an electric dryer. No fumes can ever mix with garments. Electric heat is clean, dry, radiant heat—just like the sun.

It takes only 25 to 30 minutes to dry a full load of cottons electrically. This means your dryer will easily keep up with your automatic washer.

All electric dryers are fully automatic. No complicated igniting devices to get out of order.

And, as your electric appliance dealer will tell you, electric dryers cost less than any other type.

"DRIVING BARGAIN"

Oil Progress week is being observed nationally during the Oct. 13-19 period. Its purpose is to give the oil people an opportunity to make a report to the nation they serve. And this year's observance has an excellent slogan—"With today's gasoline you're driving a bargain."

That's much more than a good catch-phrase. It's a fact. Over the last five years drilling and construction costs have soared; line pipe has gone up over 68 per cent, alloy castings nearly 56 per cent, and oil-field machinery about 25 per cent. Yet—largely due to competition among the many independent oil companies—gasoline prices have increased only a little over 2½ cents a gallon, exclusive of the direct taxes imposed by the states and the federal government, and over which the oil industry has no control.

And that isn't all. Gasoline quality has been steadily improved—which in itself is a form of economy to the user. Three gallons of present-day gas do the work that used to require four. Today's premium gasolines approach in quality the aviation fuels used during World War II. And the regular gasoline you buy now is almost as good as premium gas was only five years ago.

What is true of gasoline, is generally true of all the other oil products—the thousand and one different kinds that contribute so greatly to modern living and working standards. Oil Progress Week signalizes one of the great industrial achievements of history.

SEAWAY PROBLEM

A problem has arisen in connection with the vast St. Lawrence Seaway project—and it is a problem of direct and personal interest to all the taxpayers.

The advocates of the seaway always emphasized the principle of self-liquidation, which simply meant that tolls should be sufficient to pay all the costs. And Public Law 358, which authorized this country to participate with Canada in Seaway construction, requires that waterways costs be paid for by the users, either fully or to the greatest extent possible.

Now, however, Seaway partisans are changing their tune. It is found that construction costs are far greater than the estimates—which seems to be usually the case with king-sized government projects. So it is feared that toll charges sufficient to meet the costs—and to conform with the self-liquidation principle—would be so high as to discourage prospective users. Therefore, various stratagems are proposed whereby tolls would be set at levels lower than the costs justify—and, as a result, the taxpayers would make up the difference, in direct or indirect subsidies.

If that should happen, and the navigation project cannot be made to pay for itself, it would amount to an admission that the Seaway is economically unsound as a transportation facility. It would mean that it could get traffic only with the artificial aid of rates that fail to fully reflect costs. The country, and its taxpayers, should watch the outcome of this with intense interest.

GOOD BYE HUCK FINN!

Stephen Foster's "Old Black Joe" is a piece of immortal Americana, loved and sung by tens of millions of people over the generations. But it has been banned from certain air networks—on the grounds that it contains racially offensive phrases.

Now the New York City Board of Education has taken "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" from its approved textbook list for grade and junior high schools. A great many excellent critics regard Huck Finn as the greatest of all American novels, and practically all put it very high on the short list of genuine classics. The New York Times reports a publisher as saying the book was banned because, like Stephen Foster's wonderful old song, it was held to contain racially offensive material.

There is only one logical end to such a trend. All literary and musical material which happens to offend anyone should be banned—whether those offended are white men, yellow men, or black men; Protestants, Catholics or Jews; business men or labor leaders, and so on ad infinitum. Then we can all live in a cultural vacuum comparable to the Dark Ages.

600,000th Gas Customer Gets Clothes Dryer

Connection of gas service to Northern Illinois Gas Company's 600,000th customer was commemorated in brief ceremonies Monday morning, Oct. 14. Celebrating an increase of CATHOLIC YOUTH WEEK has been proclaimed at Mokena. Mayor James Marti is shown here at the village hall as he affixed his signature to a proclamation setting aside Oct. 27-Nov. 2 as the dates for the period. 100,000 new gas customers in about 27 months, the utility installed a gilded meter and presented a new gas clothes dryer in the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sears, 2762 Circle Drive, (Canterbury Gardens subdivision) at Markham.

Sears, a test technician for Electro Motive Corp. in McCook, and his wife, Carol, have three sons.

Albert F. Cash, president of the village board of Markham, and Marvin Chandler, president of Northern Illinois Gas, were among those present to congratulate the Sears', who will soon move into their new home from 7517 S. Yale, Chicago.

Rapid Growth

Continuing growth of Northern Illinois Gas was evidenced by installation of the meter for customer number 600,000 just over two years since the 500,000th customer received gas service in July, 1955. Marvin Chandler, the utility's president said.

He said the number of gas customers served by Northern Illinois Gas has practically doubled since the end of World War II.

The annual per cent increase in gas customers in northern Illinois has been more than that of the nation each year since 1949, he mentioned, and was about double the national rate last year.

In addition to the increase in number of customers, the average annual therm use per residential customer has more than tripled since 1940, Chandler said. While it was 299 in 1940, the average yearly total climbed to

FARM NEWS

For Cook County
by
W. F. Whiteside

assistant farm adviser

High farm production in recent years can be credited to continuously increasing use of fertilizer and power machinery. C. B. Baker, University of Illinois agricultural economist, pointed out to us at our recent extension conference at the University of Illinois.

Total crop acres had changed very little since 1914. But the amount of labor on farms has declined steadily since 1910, averaging about a 1.6% decrease per year.

On the other hand, Baker cited the steady climb in fertilizer use. Since 1930, farmers have used about 6% more fertilizer each year. And he added that there is apparently no end in sight to this upward trend.

Power machinery use was also credited with helping to boost farm production. Since 1935-39, farmers have doubled their use of tractors.

Behind these production figures, other significant changes are taking place in farming. Baker pointed out. With the increased use of machinery and fertilizer, a farmer has a much greater need for cash to operate his farm. Contract financing is rapidly becoming a part of many of these operations.

With industry moving into many farming areas. Farmers have often taken off-farm employment. This rising number of farmers having off-farm income has eliminated many of the differences between farm and non-farm population, Baker concludes.

He also made this prophecy. Family farms will stay, farms will get large, specialization in farming will continue, higher capital requirements will continue, and that management (mental processes) will play an increasingly more important role in farming.

The conference mentioned above was most inspiring and information packed speakers included Dr. David D. Henry, president of the University of Illinois, Dr. Paul Miller, director of extension, Michigan State University, and Dr. Cyril O. Houle of the University of Chicago.

Other facts gleaned from the conference: Pasture for swine worth $17 per acre (not a very high profit crop); Hygromycin is a good product for use in worming pigs. The weight-a-day-month dairy testing program for dairy cattle is excellent; selection of dairy herd replacements on the basis of milk yield is sound, and it is still the right direction as far as milk components are concerned, such as fat and total solids.

Bill Lorenz, Chicago Heights, won a place on the Illinois vegetable judging team is an elimination contest held at the University of Illinois. The state team will compete in National competition at Springfield, Ill. in December.

4-H's leaders, parents and friends of 4-H are invited to attend the achievement program in Homewood, Nov. 5 at 7:15 p.m. Awards and recognition will be given to 4-H members and leaders. Several special awards will also be given. Don't miss this event, to be held in the village hall.

Unfortunately, because of carelessness, and haste, some human fingers, hands, arms and even legs may get mixed into the harvest of this fall's bumper corn crop.

Law On The Farm

(Prepared by James Elson, member of the Illinois bar, while Norm Krausz is on leave)

The average farmer writes several checks during a year to pay for machinery, feed, labor, groceries, medical care and other items. Because checks are important in commercial transactions and everyday activities, a large body of law has developed in Illinois regarding their use.

Checks do not need to be written in ink to be valid. A check written in pencil is just as legal as one written in ink. However, the pencil drawn check is easier to alter. It is an open invitation to change the amount. If the amount shown on the pencil drawn check is raised it is possible that the drawer may be held liable for the extra amount.

Many persons think they can not legally write a check on Sunday, and therefore they date the check for the next day. This is unnecessary. Although Sunday is a holiday in Illinois, checks written on this day are as valid as those written on week days.

Farmers need to cash the checks they get within a reasonable time. If not, they run the risk of not having them honored by the bank. The reasonable time depends on the circumstances. Generally it's a good idea to cash checks at least within a week after you get them.

A check is a good receipt for income tax purposes. A canceled check that shows its purpose can be used to substantiate deductions claimed for medical care, charitable contributions or business expenses. Keep these checks for at least three years. Canceled checks can also be used to show the acquisition cost of capital assets or the cost of improvements made to capital items. Checks of this nature should be kept for at least three years after the sale of the capital asset.

The nation is short 160,000 classrooms for public school students, according to a recent study.

Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago, is the first institution in the country to offer a degree-granting course in food engineering.

HELLO THERE

One morning last spring, while snow was still across the ground, I ran breathlessly to my front door, tugged it open, and shouted across the white drive to my milkman "Hello there!"

He turned, surprised, bumping his knee with his wire cart, and called back: "What is it? Is something wrong?" "No" I said foolishly. "No—it's just that you're the first human being I've seen this week. I just wanted to speak to you!"

He laughed then. The air was so still we could talk in quiet voices and hear every syllable. "I know just what you mean" he said, smiling across the distance at me. "When we moved in last year, my wife didn't have anybody to talk to for four months! I know just what you mean."

Months have passed since then. But I've remembered every detail of the biting cold air, the grey wide sky, the stretches of white snow down the road and across the wide field to the right. But most of all, I remember the joy of one human being calling to another across space. For that incident symbolizes what it means to a woman to move out here, especially during winter.

We all wish to call to one another. And so, gradually, we begin to meet together about our schools, about our churches, about our worries, and about our pleasures. We smile at our neighbor and mention our flowers or our children. Later, we work together.

But first we call 'Hello there'.

OUR CUBS ARE COMING

Since July, the Citizens committee of school district 160 has been working to complete a year's plan for Cub Scouts (boys 8 to 10 years old). Al Stasko, Robert Senecal, and Glenn Thacker... formed the nucleus of the organizing body. Carl Timmermann will serve as institutional representative. Cub Master will be Rader Hale, assistant will be W. K. Watkins. Daniel Kelly will serve on the pack committee also.

Plans are now ready to form four Cub Scout packs and their Den Mothers will be: Mrs. Doris Watkins, Mrs. Jane Jones, Mrs. Phyllis Hoffmann; Mrs. Dorothy Ebert, and Mrs. Milly Berdan. New families who have boys 8 to 10 years old are invited to call John Kovach, HO 5467J.

POUR ON WATER! POUR ON WATER!

Good news! We now have 27 men in our volunteer fire department. Their new fire hats and badges will be arriving any day now and then they will be visiting all of us for small contributions to maintain our own protective association. This number of men are free to run to our assistance during the night hours in case of fire...but there is great need for men who have free daytime hours.

Do you know anybody who works nights or a scattered-day schedule? Please, for the protection of all of us, ask these men if they would like to join the other 27 volunteers and give us a list of daytime defenders and protectors. Call Edward McPherson, HO 6134. And think of the thrill of wearing a real fire hat!

Religious Census

As soon as authorization is received, a group of Catholic families in our village will begin a house to house religious census to determine the exact number of students who would be enrolled in a Catholic school here. About 20 families have been meeting in private homes to determine the best course of action for planning a Catholic school within our own property boundaries. Father Burke of St. Joseph's is helping the group.

Thurs. Oct. 31 Hallowe'en Parties

Mrs. Eleanor Otto, as chairman of school parties for the Mothers club, has assigned two room mothers to each classroom of our school. Each class will plan its own party for the afternoon, lasting about two hours.

Let's all be sure to buy bags and bags of extra treats for that night when the 'younger children will roam in costumes up and down the streets, knocking on our doors and asking for "Trick or Treat."

Sat. Nov. 2 Hard Times Dance

Come as you are—a bum! No, truly you may come in a hard times outfit if you wish. There will be a six piece orchestra (the trombonist used to be in Woody Herman's group.) At 8 pm. in VFW hall in Homewood. Call Ray Bergmann, HO 5664. Chairman of the dance is Mrs. Hazel Marquedsen.

Wed. Nov. 6 Mothers Club of School

when our enrollment warrants PTA membership.) At Coopers Grove school, 184th and Central. 8 pm.

Meet Your Neighbors—

Hugh Cole is our 7th and 8th grade teacher. He has studied at Carleton college, Iowa Wesleyan college and the University of Michigan, where he received his masters degree. Besides all this, he spent 1954-55 studying at the Sorbonne in Paris. While in Europe, he often went skiing in the Alps, and enjoys sailing a 30' sloop on Lake Michigan. His wife is from Germany and they now have a baby boy and a baby girl. Their home is the Rose-land area of Chicago.

Mrs. Marilyn Matthews is very proud of her fruit orchard planted at the back of her corner lot, 179th and John ave. It has even been used to enliven her son Lee's birthday party this summer, when she hung bright lollipops on the tiny plum tree. It was just the right height for the young guests to "pick" their own lollipops during the party. Marilyn has studied at Stevens college and her parents live in Boston. About that orchard—it contains apples, pear, peach, cherry and plum trees.

Mrs. Jean Leek was born and raised in New Zealand. It was there that she met and married her husband, Clarence Leek, when he was there with the United States marine corps. They have moved into the very back block of the northernmost section of our village, with a view of the open farmlands west and north. Previously they lived for three years in Flossmoor. Jean likes to bowl and golf (when she can have free time from her four children, ages 2, 9, 11 and 13).

Clarence Beam is a man who has given us untold hours of his time for the future benefit of our village. He is now chairman of our school board, works with the Citizens committee, and one weekend built a folding pulpit for our new Christian church. He has a family of five children and they live at 4735 182nd place.

Less Than a Dime

I wanted you to read the above story to remind you of our desperate need for communication out here. This news paper can only print our needs and announcements if it receives a sufficient number of paid subscriptions from our population. So please mail in your money and remind all your friends and neighbors to subscribe to the paper for 6 months at least, so we will retain our new-found voice. After all, $2 for 6 months equals less than a dime a week to read everything that is happening out here. It is $3 for a year.

WARNING!

I have received a phone call telling me that nine separate families in our village have agreed to purchase home freezers with a year's supply of food from salesmen allegedly representing authentic businesses. Yet these contracts were NOT lived up to, either the freezers themselves not being delivered, or the supply of food not being delivered.

Such foul practices are hard to check in a wide-open country location such as ours. Yet, it would be best for all new families to hesitate before pledging money to any firm without taking time first to: 1. check telephone directory listing of each firm name. 2. Writing or calling Chicago Better Business Bureau about firm's history. 3. Checking with friends, neighbors, builders' office or local business men and banks etc.

Do not sign quickly. Insist that the salesman give you adequate time to check his references and his firm's history first!

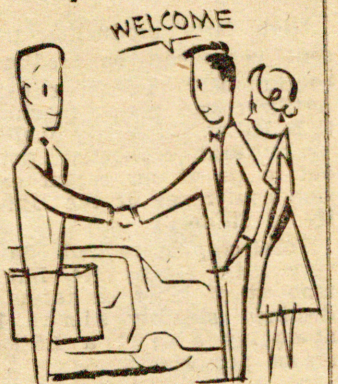

May You Fare Well

The possibility of parasite infections may be reduced if a pet owner regularly grooms his animal, provides it with dry, comfortable, draft-free sleeping quarters and maintains it on a balanced diet, veterinary authorities say.

A commercially available atomic-powered battery no bigger than a cough drop is predicted within three years. The battery, producing about 20 microwatts of electricity, could be used in transistorized radios, hearing aids, and even wristwatches.

Business and Finance

MAURICE P. ANGLAND

Those economists and financial men dealing with basic economic facts rather than attempts to predict day to day or week to week actions of the securities markets, are much more fearful of further inflation than of deflation. They expect only a moderate turn down in business with spotty areas of unemployment.

Prior to the Russian achievement of sending a satellite into space, informed sources were of the opinion that the "cash" spending of the national government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1958, will be about $82.8 billions as against a budget figure of $72 billion. This is due to unexpended budget balances from last year. Total expended in the previous fiscal year was $79.2 billion. It is clear governmental expenditures are more rather than less. The Russian success in the missile field will have a heavy impact on our defense spending and insures that total sums are not likely to be less for some time. Emphasis on airplanes may change considerably and with the fortunes of some firms in this field. It is said that the electronic equipment of guided missiles, is approximately half their cost. Orthodox, aircraft does not have this division of costs.

May Extend Credits

The present debt ceiling of $275 billion is expected to give the treasury department considerable difficulty between November and January. Some believe the government will be forced to ask extension of credit from suppliers. This of course, means some suppliers must borrow from the banks, to carry the credits.

As to the general price level, it is expected that the cost of living will show a continued slow rise. Little or no change is expected in those items people buy for their own use.

Due to the basic belief that there would be a further erosion of the dollar as to purchasing power, some commentators were surprised at the decline in securities markets since better grade common stocks are usually thought to be good hedges against such decline in the value of the dollar. However, a number of large investors have felt that enthusiasm for certain stocks with "growth" potential had discounted the future too greatly and to be attractive investments, the market price must recede to a point where the premium paid for such securities did not discount the future so heavily.

Attracts Foreign Capital

It is pointed out that, as is often the case, outside and unexpected events influenced investment thinking to action.

Our securities markets have long attracted foreign investors as a market in which they could achieve safety and a good return. The foreign situation in France, England and Germany certainly has had an influence. France is about to further devalue its money and England was losing gold to west Germany where the financial condition is excellent and a chance their money would be re-valued upward rather than downward.

England countered with an increase in its bank re-discount rate to 7 per cent. This is the rate banks pay to borrow from the central bank. Normal commercial loans would be above this of course. This rate attracts money to that market.

The present market has a number of very attractive situations. Montgomery Ward common stock has about $48 of net current assets per share and is selling at $33 with a dividend yield close to 7 per cent. It has paid dividends regularly since 1936. S. H. Kress Co., sixth largest variety chain, has paid regular dividends on its common stock since 1918. Its common stock yields almost 7.5 per cent. Wm. Wrigley Jr., chewing gum, common yields about 7 per cent.

Takes Parking Lot Paving to Court

(CNS)—Village of Homewood has filed a combined condemnation and special assessment bill in county court to grade, pave and improve off-street parking in an area off Ridge road and in another section off Harwood avenue.

The village board authorized the action on March 19. The suit was filed by Attorney Louis Ancel and Thomas McGrath.

The importance of having the oil burner cleaned and checked sometime during the summer months is pointed out by the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau. It's the attention the oil burner gets in the summer that will determine its readiness to function when cold weather arrives.

Savings Grow Says Banker

Altho government figures show that the cost of living has advanced more during the past 12 months than during previous years, savers have not been discouraged from adding to their accounts.

On the contrary, there are more savings accounts and each has a higher balance than a year ago, according to John Bardwick Jr., president of Harvey Federal Savings and Loan Association.

The Association's monthly statement to the Federal Home Loan Bank of Chicago reports an increase of 861 savings accounts since Sept. 30, 1956, to a current total of 10,105, and an increase in savings balances of $2,193,909, to $15,624,498. Thus, the average balance in each savings account at the end of September was more than $100 higher than a year ago.

Other figures in the report reflect the steady growth of Harvey Federal Savings. Assets now total $19,821,638, continuing the increase of approximately a quarter of a million dollars per month which has been the pattern for the past several years. Of this the principal item is $16,781,010 in mortgage loans outstanding at the end of the quarter, with 2,450 mortgage accounts on the books. Commenting on the financial statement, president Bardwick said, "It has been a most satisfactory year all the way around. It is particularly noteworthy to see the continued high rate of individual savings, which is so important in these inflationary times."

Farm Economists Compares Costs On Harvesting

A University of Illinois farm economist this week reported the costs and net returns of harvesting grain and corn with different types of harvesting machines.

John Wills compared these three combinations of equipment: a 7-foot power take-off combine and a two-row corn picker, a 10-foot self-propelled combine, and a two-row picker and a combine to harvest both corn and other grains, with corn dried by heated air and stored in metal bins.

These combinations were assumed to be used on farms with grain acreage ranging from 100 to 500. Fifty per cent of the acreage was in corn, 25 per cent in soybeans and 12.5 per cent each in oats and wheat.

Reports Findings

On farms with 200 acres or more of grain, the combine to harvest both corn and other grains, with corn dried by heated air and stored in metal bins, gave the highest estimated returns above harvest and storage costs. For 500 acres, the advantage was about $1,300.

Where grain acreage was less than 200, the power take-off combine and two-row corn picker gave high returns above harvest and storage costs.

The least favorable combination was the 10-foot self-propelled combine and the two-row corn picker.

Wills points out that the possibility of reducing losses is a strong argument for field-shelling corn. Ability to harvest a crop at the right time is an important reason for selecting high-capacity machines, he concludes.

Have Special Valve To Curb Water Waste

Will water ever cost as much as milk?

It could, if homeowners don't find some way to curb their wasteful use of this most vital of all natural resources.

Water rates are going up with the increased demands of homeowners and industry in all section of the country.

Yet 50 per cent of the currently available supply from municipal water systems is being wasted, according to the American Water Works Association.

The waste must be stopped, and the way to do it is by controlling the rate of flow from fixtures, the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau explains.

A special valve for this purpose, available thru plumbing contractors, varies the stream from a faucet according to pressure changes in the supply line.

The valve has a built-in rubber washer that expands as pressure drops to let more water thru, contracts with a pressure increase to restrict the flow. In either case, a steady flow is maintained. Valves are made for various gallons per minute flow rates.

Savings are spectacular, it was said. With such a valve, the normal flow rates of three or four gallons per minute from a lavatory faucet can be cut to 1½ gallons, ample for all normal needs. The flow from kitchen faucets can be cut to 2½ gallons per minute, an adequate supply for sink and food waste disposed, plumbers say.

The customary 9 gallons per minute flowing from a shower-head can be reduced to four with a flow control valve, and without limiting the enjoyment of a shower in any way, it is claimed.

Find Rare Indian Relics Near Peoria

Relics which pre-date Illinois history, two thousand years ago, are being preserved thru cooperation of private firms in the Peoria area and the Illinois Archeological survey. Prof. John McGregor, archeologist at the University of Illinois, who is president of the survey has just reported on the work.

At Renchville, 7 miles north of Peoria, bones and materials have been salvaged from three Indian mounds on property being leveled for a new factory. Among materials found are a stone pipe, native copper wire, and what probably was a leather worker's kit containing bone awls, flint knives, and a double pointed copper awl.

Archeologists also found sizeable pieces of 8-in oak logs which will be used to check the age of the mounds. More than 40 Indians had been found buried in the three mounds. They were of the Hopewell group which occupied Illinois 20 centuries ago.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The vital necessity of individual application of the teachings of Christ Jesus will be emphasized at Christian Science services
Sunday, October 20.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Doctrine of Atonement" is the Golden Text from Psalms
(80:19): "Turn us again, O Lord God of hosts, cause thy face to shine; and we shall be saved."

Selections to be read from
"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (25:26-31): "Implicit faith in the Teacher and all the emotional love we can bestow on him, will never alone make us imitators of him. We must go and do likewise, else we are not improving the great blessings which our Master worked and suffered to bestow upon us."

From the Bible will be read the following (II Corinthians 5:17): "Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new."

Cook County Board Boosts Price for Rabies Shots

(CNS)—Cook county board has boosted its fee for rabies shots for animals from 50 cents to $1, effective Jan. 1, 1958.

Such an increase was authorized recently by the state legislature.

Those administering the shots tack the fee onto the charge for their services. The fee is collected by the county rabies inspector and is placed into the county's fund for rabies control purposes.

Change Tuition Fees in Chicago School System

The fee for attendance at a Chicago junior college is up from $450 to $485 annually. Students living in Chicago pay only a nominal registration fee.

Tuition for trade and vocational schools is up from $525 to $540 annually while fee for vocational preparatory is down from $600 to $550. High school tuition is down $5, to $480 while elementary school fee is up $15, to $350.

Kindergarten tuition is also increased from $167.50 to $175.

Figure Instead Of Fingers And So Keep On Living

Arithmetic — if you'll apply what you learn—can save you from a corn picker accident this fall, says O. L. Hogsett, extension safety specialist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture.

Two facts make it dangerous to try to clean stalks out of a picker when it's running.

First, you need nearly half a second to let go of a stalk after you see it going thru the snapping rolls.

Second, when you multiply that time by the speed of the rolls, — they'll pull in seven feet of stalk per second—you have a result that can spell injury or death. Even if you grab the stalk at the end, you are taking a big chance.

The solution is to shut the picker OFF. If the picker clogs so often that this isn't practical, better find out whether a faulty picker is to blame.

October 10th, the Nelsons and Andersons enjoyed a delicious roast beef dinner at Christ Lutheran church, Orland Park. While waiting for a table we met Mrs. Snedden and Mrs. McBride and greeted folks we knew from Orland Park. In a short while we were seated at a table and in the general confusion of removing wraps and visiting another group joined our table and I heard Mrs. Nelson say, "Bev, I'd like to introduce you to Mrs. Semmler!" There, at the head of the table sat my employer of almost two years, whom I had talked to on the phone but never had the pleasure of meeting. We were introduced to her party, her daughter, Mrs. Adeline Smith, her sister, Mrs. Clida Deadmore of Mokena and Mrs. Ida Ketter, a cousin of Joliet. We certainly enjoyed our unexpected meeting and haven't forgotten our invitation to Mokena.

Oak Forest Helpers

Anyone having three hours a week or more that they could donate to Oak Forest hospital would be more than welcome, as volunteers are always in demand. Many retired business men and women as well as housewives and teenagers known as Volunteers are giving of their time and enjoying it. Some of the jobs which the volunteers do are: visiting with the shut-ins, reading or writing letters for them (each visitor has certain patients to visit and sees them every week) It's something for the shut-in to look forward to and enjoy a visit from somebody who cares. Other than Friendly Visitor there are, clerical aides, recreational aides, shop therapy, to teach patients ceramics, rug weaving, embroidery, leather crafts, etc. These crafts will be taught to you so that you in turn may help those unable to attend the classes. These are just a few of the many jobs a volunteer can do to help bring cheer to people who live in the Oak Forest hospital. If you have the time to spare won't you help? Please call Mrs. Lindsay at FULTON 8-2360 for an interview, or for information you may desire, you may call FI9-2857.

The Wood Duck Is A Funny Thing — It Flies, It Swims, It Lives In Trees But Hardly Ever Sings

ROBERTS MANN
Conservation Editor Forest Preserve Dist. Cook County

Of all the fowl that swim, the wood duck is a most unusual bird. They perch in trees like jaybirds, and nest in tree holes like woodpeckers. The hens do not quack like the females of most ducks, and the drakes are dressed in a riot of gaudy colors. Each summer we see dozens of them—more than any other kind of wild duck—rear their families of ducklings on and around the streams, ponds, lakes and sloughs of Cook county's forest preserves.

Words can scarcely describe the brilliance of the drake's plumage. The head, crest and back glint with iridescent greens, purples and blues. The eyes are red, the throat white, and the bill orange-red. The breast is wine colored flecked with white, the belly is white, and the sides are buff. The woodie is about midway in size between the mallard and the blue winged teal. The drakes weigh about a pound and a half. The hen is smaller and plainer, with a gray-brown head and body, a white throat and a conspicuous white ring around the eye. Her voice is a shrill, squealing "whoo-eeek", while the male's is a mere squeak.

Fall and Bounce

In early April mated pairs, flying two by two, arrive in the Chicago region from their winter homes in the lower Mississippi valley or along the gulf coast. The female selects a hollow tree which is often an abandoned woodpecker's home. The entrance may be near the ground, or 50 feet above; near the shore of the body of water where she will rear her brood, or a half mile away. There, each day, she lays a dull white egg—the size of a hen's egg—usually about a dozen before she begins to set on the "clutch."

Each morning and evening when she leaves the nest to feed, she carefully covers the eggs with a blanket of down plucked from her breast. Incubation covers a whole month; about a week longer than most ducks. The day after the ducklings hatch, the mother perches on a nearby tree and calls them with a high pitched "pe-e-e, pe-e-e, pe-e-e." The youngsters answer with a series of peeps. Then, one by one, these balls of fluff climb to the entrance with their sharp toenails, hesitate a moment, and tumble to the ground. They may bounce but none is injured. After all are on the ground, she leads them to water. It was once supposed that the hen carried her ducklings to water in her bill or riding on her back. That is not true.

Parenthood Not For Drake

As soon as the eggs are laid, the drake abandons his mate and, in company with other males, hides away on some secluded body of water where he molts and grows a new set of feathers. The hen molts later while caring for her young. Mostly they feed on plant material both from water and on shore, but a substantial part of their diet is insects. The young grow rapidly and begin to fly when two months old. At this state, because of their shrill voices, they are rightly called "squealers."

In the decades before 1900, unrestricted year round hunting cut down the wood duck population to the point where they were threatened with extinction. They suffered more than other wild ducks because they lived in the more thickly settled and wooded parts of the United States. The clearing of our forests made nesting trees more and more scarce. They were given protection from hunters by the Migratory Bird Treaty act of 1918 and, since then, have slowly increased in numbers. Now, over the country, thousands of man-made nest boxes are being put up to take the place of hollow trees.

FIXIN'-UP TIPS For The Home

Durable, Decorative Top

A QUICK way to make a battered dresser top look like new is to cover it with a piece of Marlite. With its baked plastic surface and its Masonite tempered hardboard base, this predecorated paneling stays attractive even when subjected to impact, cigarette burns and spilled cosmetics.

Particularly suitable for dresser tops are the various marble patterns, reproduced from rare imported stone, and authentic wood grains in which Marlite is available.

From the wide selection offered, the pattern and coloration of the panel for the top may be chosen to contrast dramatically with the dresser finish, or to blend with it. Plain colors in wide variety also are available.

The predecorated hardboard, a wall and ceiling paneling sold by lumber dealers, is cut to size with an ordinary cross-cut saw. To assure a neat cut, saw with the finished side up. Then simply smooth the edges with a block plane or sandpaper and wax or paint the edges.

The new Marlite dresser top can just be laid in place. Or if more security seems advisable, it may be bonded with wallboard adhesive or held by glass holders available in hardware stores.

THIS WEEK -In Washington-

(A round-up of the week's work, activities and observations at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs experiment station near Robbs in southern Illinois, prepared by the station's staff)

One word, "active," best describes the feeder calf sale held October 3 and 4 on the Dixon Springs Station. Buyers revealed that they have both plenty of feed and optimism that fat cattle prices will remain strong. Good to choice calves sold in a practical range of 23 to 25 cents, the sale toppers going for 26½. Yearlings sold at 19 to 22 cents.

Quality Upheld

A reported shortage of feeder cattle, a big feed grain supply and an outlook for continued strong fat cattle prices all contributed to satisfactory sales. But another important factor, a credit to the livestock producers, was the high quality of cattle offered. The Egyptian Livestock Association insured the quality of the sale by employing two cattle-wise, eagle-eyed judges who inspected each animal as it was unloaded. Thus any animal lacking beef quality, or exhibiting unthriftiness, or carrying horns, or showing signs of staginess was rejected. These two men, Fred Francis and Skip Newel, who had to use the word "No," held the most unpopular job of the sale, but they undoubtedly deserve the greatest thanks from both producer and buyer.

Just a Dime

Never before have we written what is to follow, so you are the first to know. Many of you are using stilbestrol in your steer-fattening programs and recognize its value. Others of you may not be using it. It is this latter group to whom we are now reporting.

Last winter a group of 700-pound yearling steers were self-fed 153 days on a fattening ration. The ration was 25% ground hay, 65% ground shelled corn and 10% soybean oil meal, mixed and pelleted. At the start of the feeding period, part of the steers were implanted with 48 milligrams of stilbestrol and over the entire feeding period gained a whopping 3.59 pounds a day, while their non-implanted mates made a very respectable but lesser gain of 2.49 pounds a day. The difference in gain per animal for the feeding period was 176 pounds. Or, to put it another way, at market time the weights were 1250 pounds against 1075 pounds. And all this for one thin dime and a minute or two of implanting time!

this fall—both add up to late seedings of small grain. On the station the wet spring delayed corn planting and thereby set back silage-making and the following small grain seedings. Dry weather this fall has delayed small grain germination. The prospects are for a thin, short ground cover this winter. Under these conditions George McKibben, station crops and soils man, suggests using a starter fertilizer with a higher nitrogen content than you normally use. George more than 50 to 60 pounds of cautions, however, against using "hot" fertilizer drilled per acre. By "hot" he means the nitrogen and potash components. The phosphorus component of fertilizer is not considered harmful to germination.

JEWEL SETTING—in the rough. Work of the Jewel food store on N. Oak Park ave., Tinley Park, is progressing and before the store opens for business, sometime in December or early

January, the surrounding area will be smoothed and surface for parking. The building is up but there is still a lot of work to be done before it is completed. (Robert Porter photo)

THERE ARE GIANTS IN THESE DAYS TOO—and an example is this transformer that is to become a part of the power transmission station the Public Service Co. is building near Goodings Grove. The transformer was brought to Orland Park over the Wabash on a special car to carry its 150-odd tons. It will be hauled to the power station on a trailer that has been built special for the job. It is expected that the move will be completed by this week-end. (Robert Porter photo)

RICE PUDDING FOR 1,000—that is size recipe these ladies are considering in making plans for the annual Carl Sandburg high school PTA smorgasbord to be served Oct. 19. In the picture (l to r) are, Mrs. Harry Anderson, Mrs. Augusta Peterson and Mrs. Charles Scheurer, Jr., and they are just experimenting here, making up a little dab that probably would not serve more than a dozen. You know they aren't going to get on a big production basis with a quart of milk. When they start preparing for the multitude they probably will back a herd of cows or a milk truck up to the door with a trailer full of eggs. Of course, one generally doesn't have any room left for puddings and the like after a Sandburg PTA smorgasbord but dessert will be there for those who want it. (Jon Miller photo).

SPAGHETTI SUPPER PLANS in the making as Mrs. Allan Howie (left) and Mrs. P. L. Jochum, of Tinley Park, pause for a cup of coffee. Mrs. Howie is chairman of the budget committee and Mrs. Jochum is president of the Bremen high school PTA unit, that is sponsoring the supper. The spaghetti supper is an annual affair and it will be held this year on Oct. 26 in the school at Midlothian. Proceeds from the event are used to finance the PTA's scholarship program and other activities.
